Arriving by plane

Travelling to Brest by plane

Regular flights:

There are flights to Brest Bretagne Airport from Orly Airport, Paris (eight flights every weekday) and Charles-de Gaulle Airport, Paris (three daily flights). Other direct flight destinations (which may be seasonal) include Lyon, Marseille, Nantes and Toulon. More information is available on the Brest Bretagne Airport website.

Transport from the airport to the university campus:

A taxi ride from Brest Bretagne Airport to the university campus takes 30 to 40 minutes.

Public transport:
A shuttle bus links the airport to the end of the tram line at Porte de Guipavas. Look up shuttle bus times on the airport website. Please go to the Bibus website for tram times.

Take the tram towards "Porte de Plouzané". Get off at the "Liberté" stop if you want to go into the centre of Brest. If you are coming directly to IMT Atlantique - Brest Campus, get off at the "Fort Montbarey" stop, then take Bus number 13 and get off at the "Technopôle" stop.

For €1.50 (in May 2017) you can travel for one hour on any part of the Bibus network (shuttle, tram and bus).

Source URL: https://www.imt-atlantique.fr/about/campus/brest-campus/arriving-plane