Working at IMT Atlantique

Joining our teams means working with us to meet the challenges of tomorrow

Working at IMT Atlantique means working in an internationally renowned higher education and research institution with three campuses just a stone's throw from the Atlantic coast.

It means joining a Technological University, a member of the Institut Mines-Télécom (the leading French group of engineering and management schools under the Ministry of Industry and Digital Technologies), and contributing to economic development through education, research and innovation.

It means pursuing a career in and around the attractive cities of Brest, Nantes and Rennes, on campuses that offer comfortable working conditions.

It means joining a technological university that places sustainable development and social responsibility at the heart of its strategy, and that is committed to developing all of its activities in line with the UN Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).

Joining IMT Atlantique means joining teams united by common values and committed to meeting the challenges of tomorrow.
