Discover our scientific community

IMT Atlantique's internationally recognized research ranks among the Top 400 Technological Universities worldwide (THE WUR ranking). From fundamental to applied research, over the wide-ranging fields of digital sciences, engineering sciences, physics and management and work at the crossroads of these disciplines, IMT Atlantique responds to the major challenges that companies and society are facing today.

As an active technological university, IMT Atlantique has established academic research cooperation agreements with numerous national and international universities and research organisations.

It also supports international mobility programmes for researchers and hosts international chaires.

Source URL: https://www.imt-atlantique.fr/research-innovation/scientific-community