Modalities and tools for collaboration

Create or work with us to accelerate your competitiveness

Although the tools and modalities of collaboration between IMT Atlantique and its industrial partners are varied, each of them responds to specific needs defined by the scientific field involved, by the industrial partner’s strategy, or by the characteristics of the market, etc.

Depending on whether we plan to transfer a technology already developed by the laboratory and duly protected, or whether we aim to remove a scientific barrier, or whether we simply wish to solve a problem or control and secure an associated property, ad-hoc modes of collaboration can be proposed.
