Master Complex systems engineering / track Microtechnologies, architecture, networks and communication systems

IMT Atlantique is co-accredited with the University of Bretagne Sud, INSA Rennes and Centrale Supelec by the MESRI* to deliver the Master in "Complex systems Engineering" (in French : "Ingénierie des systèmes complexes" - Master ISC). This national degree is referenced on the French official website "Trouver Mon Master.gouv.fr". The accreditation number is : 1702051F.

The track offers by IMT Atlantique is : "Microtechnologies, architecture, networks and communication systems" (I-MARS). The courses are taught in French.

IMT Atlantique offers a "french summer school" in August, on Brest or Nantes campus, in order for you to improve your French language before starting the Master's courses.

Your Master degree MI/I-MARS will be delivered by IMT Atlantique, one of the French Top Technological University.

More details here on the french website

* Ministry of Higher Education, Research and Innovation

Source URL: https://www.imt-atlantique.fr/en/study/masters/partnerships/isc-i-mars